ABSTRACT

This guide contains descriptions of 187 adult education resources/projects funded under Section 353 of the Adult Education Act. Included in the guide are descriptions of special demonstration projects emphasizing methods for educating adults with various special needs and descriptions of activities designed to train teachers to recognize and serve learning disabled adults who are illiterate or who read at below a fifth-grade level. The descriptions are grouped according to the following categories: adult education program management, adults with disabilities, competency-based adult education, corrections education, English as a second language, evaluation/assessment, family literacy, General Education Development programs, life skills, literacy, older persons, staff development, teacher training, teaching writing, technology, volunteers in adult education, and workplace literacy. Each description includes some or all of the following: project/resource title, project/resource description, source, cost, and ED number for those available from ERIC. ERIC and Division of Adult Education and Literacy (DAEL) Clearinghouse order forms are appended. (MN)

INTRODUCTION

A Guide to Special Demonstration and Teacher Training Projects: Special Answers for Special Needs is a compilation of adult education resources funded under Section 353 of the Adult Education Act. Special Demonstration projects and teacher training activities emphasize methods for educating adults with disabilities, homeless adults, and adults of limited English proficiency. Training activities place emphasis on training teachers to recognize and more effectively serve individuals with learning disabilities who are illiterate or have a reading ability below fifth grade level.

States must submit final reports and products to the U.S. Department of Education each year. All reports and products are reviewed and evaluated by staff members in the Division of Adult Education and Literacy, assisted by others as necessary. Based on established criteria, innovative and potentially adaptable projects are selected for the Guide. This updated version of the July 1992 Guide will provide information about those completed projects for others to use and adapt ideas that may be helpful to them.

We thank those project staffs and State Directors who developed, packaged and submitted their final reports and products on time to assist in the production of this publication.

ADULT EDUCATION PROGRAM MANAGEMENT

ABE CHILD CARE AND TRANSPORTATION SUPPORT SERVICES WORKBOOK

This workbook provides ABE program administrators a mechanism for developing an implementation plan to set up child care and transportation services for ABE students. Each chapter addresses a particular aspect of providing these services: surveying needs, identifying barriers, defining strategies, developing interagency coordination, and putting it all together in an appropriate, workable, community-based plan. At the end of each chapter, a worksheet is provided for completing suggested tasks. Readers are encouraged, at the conclusion of a chapter, to cut out the worksheet and use it to address needs, barriers, and strategies that reflect the local ABE program. This "learn-by-doing" approach should result in an implementation plan, unique to the local program, that addresses the provision of support services to ABE students.

ADULT DEVELOPMENT - WHAT DO TEACHERS OF ADULTS NEED TO KNOW?

This Florida Atlantic University publication outlines eight adult development models based on the theories of Maslow, Rogers, Kohlberg, Nelson, Erickson, Levinson, Loevinger, and Piaget. Stages of each model are clearly presented for use by adult education instructors.

MARKETING YOUR ADULT LITERACY PROGRAM MANUAL

The "New York-You Can Read" campaign is designed to enable adult educators to market their services better and to reach students who are not currently served. This "how to" manual has been used as part of a two-day workshop, but is also instructive for any adult educator planning a literacy campaign. It covers the basics of marketing, planning a marketing campaign, identifying resources, and evaluating the effort.

MOTIVATION

This manual was developed to assist adult education and literacy programs in implementing and expanding services to the adult learner. Included in the manual are competency-based adult education learning guides for instructors to set up a motivational training course for ABE students. Seven topics of interest are included: values, goal setting, communication and listening, attitudes and job behavior, employability skills, stress management, and decision making. Pre- and post-tests are included in each learning guide. Suggested motivational films and videos are also included.

PROJECT MAPP MANAGEMENT MANUAL

Manual is to provide program personnel with a reference tool to assist in developing and implementing a process of competency-based adult eduction (CBAE) in adult basic education (ABE) programs. This manual not only addresses program components that are important to managers, but student related activities that are essential to both managers and instructors who provide CBAE. The first chapter (RATIONALE) presents adult learner characteristics and the reasons why a CBAE approach is preferable to a conventional adult education approach. The second chapter (PROGRAM COMPONENTS) discusses essential concerns. Chapter III (STUDENT ACTIVITY FLOW) focuses on the management of student related activities from program intake, through instruction, to exit using a CBAE approach. The fourth chapter program is expected to fulfill during the piloting phases. Finally, Chapter V (APPENDICES) provides additional resource information including a glossary, bibliography, the Project MAPP Implementation Plan, and a directory of Project MAPP personnel.

STRENGTHENING AND DEVELOPING GED ALUMNI ASSOCIATIONS

A final report in the form of a 'How to organize a GED Alumni Association' was developed by using various community organizing techniques with the aid of an Adult Education Coordinator and VISTA Volunteers. This product is from Washington and Greene Counties of Waynesburg, Pennsylvania.

ADULTS WITH DISABILITIES

ABE/GED PROGRAMS FOR DISABLED ADULTS

The purpose of this project was to develop a handbook for literacy tutors and instructors who teach adults with disabilities. The handbook is a compilation of information about various handicapping conditions and suggestions for working with students who have disabilities including those with hearing acuity problems, visual impairments, speech and language impairments, learning disabilities, orthopedic impairments, and epilepsy. The handbook also includes a directory of resources and a bibliography.

ADULT EDUCATION PROGRAM FOR MENTALLY RETARDED ADULTS

The project developed a curriculum for mentally retarded adults enrolled in adult basic education. The curriculum provides guidelines in general functional skills and independence, academic skills, and personal qualities. Both the curriculum and a final report are available.

BRIDGING THE GAP

This project was designed to meet the unique literacy needs of developmentally disabled adults. 'Bridging the Gap' provided literacy training to developmentally disabled adults who were competitively employed through a locally supported employment program. Many of these individuals were not successful on the job because they lacked the necessary academic skills to perform their job responsibilities. The on-the-job teacher (OJT) model is the core component of Bridging the Gap. It serves as the bridge between employees, employers, job coaches and adult basic education teachers by providing instruction at the job site in academic, social and/or independent living skills necessary for job success.

A manual is available that provides instructional goals, learning objectives and sample learning activities that were developed for use in classes targeted to support employees.

CHALLENGE AND CHANGE

The purpose of this project was to prepare a guide and manual to train adult education instructors on techniques and approaches to use when teaching deaf adults. The guide and manual cover a variety of topics including the major differences in teaching deaf adults from other adults, how to develop language and communication skills, and the role of the interpreter in the classroom. A Guide and Manual entitled "Adult Education: The Deaf Experience" and the overheads to accompany both are included.

CHARACTERISTICS AND INSTRUCTIONAL STRATEGIES FOR ADULTS WITH LEARNING DISABILITIES

This project has two purposes: (1) to develop instructional videotapes combined with print materials which will familiarize viewers with the traits and behaviors typically found among adults with moderate to severe learning disabilities and (2) to develop instructional videotapes combined with print materials which will familiarize viewers with methods for accommodating or compensating for the presence of learning disabilities among adults. The intent of the project was to help instructors in Adult Basic Education/ G.E.D. programs to work more effectively with their adult students who possess moderate to severe learning disabilities. Two 1/2 inch 30 minute color videotapes with printed materials are available to assist the instructors.

()CLIENT MENTAL HEALTH ISSUES

The purpose of this project was to address the growing need for ABE instructors to understand the special needs for clients suffering from mental health problems. An Adult Education and Job Training Center in Lewistown, Pennsylvania implemented four workshops which provided training on crisis situations, suicide threats and attempts, issues in mental health, substance abuse and violence. A report derived from this implementation contains four training outlines reflecting the content of the four workshops and documents the entire project.

()CURRICULUM DEVELOPMENT FOR THE DEAF ADULT BASIC EDUCATION LEARNERS

The Deafness Education Advocacy Foundation (D.E.A.F.) developed a comprehensive cultural curriculum on three subject areas: (1) Living with Loss, (2) Communication, and (3) Law and the Deaf. These topics were based on feedback from the deaf community, extensive networking within the deaf community and with professionals in the field of adult basic education. The curriculum was designed as a tool to expand the opportunities for Curriculum Development for the Deaf Adult Basic Education Learners, Continued....

deaf adults to increase their English literacy skills and simultaneously develop critical thinking skills based on real world information. This curriculum will be useful for adult educators and literacy providers instructors of deaf adults.

()DEAF ADULT LITERACY TUTOR HANDBOOK

This project developed by the Pennsylvania School for the Deaf produced a Tutor Training Handbook to meet the needs of tutors working with the deaf adult literacy students. The handbook has been used as part of a training program and focuses on the unique needs of the deaf adult. It contains teaching strategies and lists other materials helpful in working with the deaf adult learner.

The Deaf Literacy Handbook will be useful to individuals working with deaf adult literacy students, and is available to any individual or agency currently providing or requesting information about literacy services to deaf adults.

()DEAF LITERACY PROGRAM

The purpose of this project at Brown University in Providence, Rhode Island, was to address the educational needs of deaf and hearing impaired adult learners. Instruction focused on improving deaf adults' skills in the use of print and print media in communication and self-expression, gathering information, and accessing community and employment related resources. Program structure and design stemmed from the idea that sign language is an independent language of the deaf which carries an independent deaf culture. Classes were based on a model of bilingual education; the teachers were deaf-native speakers of American Sign Language, and provided all instruction in sign language.

The results of this project are available in the form of a working paper which discusses the appropriate instructional strategies and materials which will be useful to teach deaf and hearing impaired adult learners.

()PRACTICAL APPLICATIONS OF ALTERNATIVE TEACHING METHODS

This project, conducted by Reading Area Community College in Reading, Pennsylvania, used alternate teaching methods in small-group teaching situations to enable learning disabled students to find practical success in reading, writing and math skills. The project also helped learning disabled students to develop self-esteem and provided a positive learning environment where GED achievement became a realistic goal for those who felt it was not possible in the past.

The method and results of this project are described in the final report. This project will be useful for adult educators and literacy programs, or other groups in offering aid or assistance with their learning disability students.

PROJECT UPGRADE: WORKING WITH ADULTS WITH LEARNING DISABILITIES

This project was designed to conduct a series of workshops for ABE/GED facilitators to prepare them to assist students with reading problems and learning disabilities. The project developed a 93-page resource manual which includes current literature on adults with learning disabilities, analysis of test commonly used in ABE programs and other test pertinent to adults with learning problems, resources and materials, behavioral characteristics of learning disabled adults, learning styles and theory, remediation techniques and intervention theory.

REAL LIFE READERS: SHORT STORIES FOR THE MENTALLY DISABLED READER

This project, conducted by the Elwyn Southeast Renabilitation Center in Pennsylvania, addresses the adult basic and literacy needs of the mentally disabled population. They are among the most motivated participants in ABE/Literacy programs, yet, these students do not have sufficiently appropriate reading materials for their age or life needs.

The project produced a two-volume anthology of short stories: Book One - At Home and Book Two - Going to Work. The Teacher's Guide contains all of the stories, worksheets and analysis and structure for each story.

STRATEGIES FOR TEACHING ADULTS WITH LEARNING DISABILITIES

The purposes of this project were to develop materials and a screening instrument to determine if characteristics common to those with learning difficulties are present in adults in ABE programs and, if so, to prescribe specific materials and methods known to be successful in instructing such individuals. The project focuses on reading from zero to fourth grade level. The Screening Test for Adult Learning Difficulties (STALD) is designed to be administered by supervisors, adult education teachers, or volunteer tutors within a time frame of 35 to 45 minutes.

The products developed include a Handbook containing the Screening Test for Adults with Learning Disabilities, instructions, interpretation of test results, remediation charts, and instructional resources. a video tape of administration of the STALD and a video tape of a lesson using the Basic Angling Practice Book curriculum are also included.

TEACHING CEREBRAL PALSY ADULTS: A TUTOR TRAINING MANUAL

Tutors and instructors of adults are generally not trained to teach adults with cerebral palsy who have unique learning problems. This training manual, developed by 'Project LEARN' staff in Denver, Colorado will assist adult education instructors in teaching adults with cerebral palsy. It includes information on what cerebral palsy is and how to relate to persons with cerebral palsy, how to understand their unique needs, how to assess adults with cerebral palsy, and how to use an appropriate curriculum.

COMPETENCY-BASED ADULT EDUCATION

COMPETENCY-BASED ADULT EDUCATION CURRICULUM & TRAINING ADULT BASIC EDUCATION, ADULT HIGH SCHOOL COMPLETION

Brevard Community College in Florida has developed and revised since 1985 a comprehensive instructional program that incorporates State mandated subject area competencies into CBAE & CBABE models. Components of this CBAE program can be adopted as a total package or modified to suit local program needs. The curriculum is on IBM computer diskettes for loan to make duplicates. The following manuals can be purchased.

- (1) CBAE Management Guide for Administrators, Teachers, Counselors is used as a primary resource for training those new to CBAE as it relates to administrative management of the program (1985 ed.).
- (2) CBAE Student Services Guide is used in training counselors and teachers (1985 ed.).
- (3) CBAE Classroom Management Guide is used in training the teacher or facilitator in CBAE learning procedures and classroom management (1986 ed.).
- (4) CBAE Level I & II Manual is used for training on CBAE and implementation of the CBABE Curriculum (1988 ed.)
- 5. CBAE High School Curriculum includes 42 high school credit courses separated into .5 credit units. These courses are on IBM computer diskettes (WordPerfect 5.1) and are available for loan to make duplicate copies. (Revised 1989-91 to meet the at-risk adult student's needs).
- (6) CBAE Teacher/Facilitator Instructional Manual provides additional resources and tips on instructional techniques for each course. It is divided into Language Arts, Social Studies, Science, Mathematics, and Electives sections. (1991 ed.).
- (7) CBABE Curriculum is divided into modules for Reading, Writing, and Math for Level I (0-5.9) and Level II (6.0-8.9) modules for Reading, Writing, Math, Science, Social Studies, Health and Consumer Education. Available for loan on IBM computer diskette, Word Star 4.0. Reading, Writing, and Math at levels I & II to be revised during 1991-92 and placed on IBM WordPerfect 5.1.

IDEAS THAT WORK: ABE ACTIVITIES AND RESOURCES FOR COMPETENCY BASED ADULT BASIC EDUCATION.

Ideas That Work was prepared by the Oregon CBE Curriculum Committee to aid in the exchange of ideas among instructors. This publication contains lesson plans and resources which have been effective both for instructional purposes and for providing fun group interaction. Topics include: consumer economics, community resources, health, occupational knowledge, government, law, computation, writing, communication, and learning to learn. This project is an unfinished collection and it includes a form for instructors to submit ideas for future publication.

CORRECTIONS EDUCATION

A HANDSOOK FOR ESTABLISHING ADULT EDUCATION PROGRAMS IN COUNTY JAILS OF TEXAS

The purpose of this project was to develop a handbook to help adult education administrators plan ABE programs in county jails. The handbook covers the steps required to plan and implement an adult education program including assistance in developing a student-centered curriculum. The handbook lists twelve steps required to establish an ABE program in a county jail.

This curriculum is diverse and incudes items that students say they want and need. Subjects covered include job training, problem solving, drug abuse, interpersonal relationships, and consumer education.

TEACHING THE HARD-TO-REACH: WORKING WITH RELEASES AND PROBATIONERS

The project assessed the needs of releases and probationers and identified effective ways of serving this clientele in adult education programs. A Handbook for Adult Educators was developed.

()A WRITING/COMMUNICATIONS CURRICULUM FOR INCARCERATED ADULTS

A Writing/Communications Curriculum for Incarcerated Adults was developed by the Schuylkill Intermediate Unit #29 in Mar Lin, Pennsylvania. The main goal of the project was to improve writing and communication skills by using community service as a motivation. Inmates enter the program with the intention of contributing to the publication of a handbook composed of their original writings. The curriculum encourages inmates who have drug and or alcohol problems to reach out to at-risk youth by sharing their experiences, and seeks to demonstrate that proper writing can be used to help society. The curriculum includes a set of lesson plans, sample recruitment flyer, self-evaluation and community service surveys, and sample stories written by inmates. A copy of the handbook Learn from Us, written by the inmates, is also available.

()ABE/ESL ASSESSMENT PROJECT

The Northwest Regional Educational Laboratories, Portland, Oregon, as part of the process of developing an assessment system under contract for the Washington State Adult Basic Education/English as a Second Language programs, prepared three products: Annotated Bibliography, Results of Field Research, and Summary Report.

The Annotated Bibliography on ABE/ESL Assessment is divided into four sections and one appendix. The first section is a review of the materials found through the Educational Resources Information Center (ERIC) and Northwest Regional Educational Laboratories (NWREL) and received from professional organizations in the field. Sections two, three, and four are updated bibliographies on alternative assessments. In addition, an annotated bibliography taken from the Information Update, Vol. 4, No. 4 published by the Literacy Assistance Center in New York is included in the appendix.

ADULT EDUCATION ESL SELECTORS GUIDE: INSTRUCTIONAL RESOURCES FOR LIMITED ENGLISH SPEAKING ADULTS

The manual is intended to serve the needs of adult ESL instructors and supervisors. The Selector's Guide is a Catalog of Adult Education ESL materials, including information on literacy, citizenship, and life coping skills. The catalog is divided into three sections. Section I consists of evaluations of 27 instructional systems. Section II has evaluations of 148 supplementary materials. Each evaluation includes a checklist of skills and general information, and a narrative section describing the lesson format, content, and overall evaluation. Field test information for the materials is found following the evaluation of the specific title: Section III contains appendices and includes a list of publishers, video teacher training programs, video and computer instructional programs, citizenship materials, ESL testing materials, and an outline of native language literacy.

ADULT ESOL CURRICULUM DEVELOPMENT PROJECT GUIDE

Palm Beach County, Florida administrators, specialists, teachers, and consultants developed an English to Speakers of Other Languages (ESOL) curriculum guide. This comprehensive curriculum has information on the following topics: ESOL Curriculum Frameworks; Student Competency Checklists, Curriculum Use and Evaluation; Native Language Literacy; FSOL Placement and Promotion Tests; Specialized Guides; ESOL Literacy; ESOL Survival/Coping Skills; Pre-GED; ESOL at the Workplace; Vocational ESL; Teaching ESOL Citizenship; ESOL Testing Overview; ESOL Materials Overview; and Teacher Training.

AMERICAN HOLIDAYS

This guide was developed at the Dona Ana Branch Community College, New Mexico State University, Las Crucas, to teach students of English as a second language about American holidays. In this guide, each holiday, major customs, who celebrates the holiday and how, and the significance of the holiday to U.S. history are covered. The units in the guide are divided into two sections: advanced beginning and advanced.

BRIDGES TO ACADEMIC WRITING

Oakton Community College in Des Plaines, Illinois developed a special composition course, Bridges to Academic Writing, to help high intermediate level adults of limited English proficiency make the transition from survival skills to college level ESL composition courses. The course is designed to instruct students on academic life and ease their adjustment to it. The authors recommend that the materials be used in conjunction with a grammar text. The composition exercises progress step by step from recognition to controlled writing to independent writing. Students are taught basic sentence patterns before moving into paragraphs. The course content includes four units: Simple and Compound Sentences, Basic Complex Sentences, Getting Ready to Write Paragraphs and Composing Paragraphs. Units 3 and 4 on Getting Ready to Write Paragraphs and Composing Paragraphs were field tested and revised as the result of the testing. Some of the topics included in the four units are: The First Day of Class, Rules and Expectations of Instruction, Classroom Conduct, Study Habits, and Student Services.

()THE CULTURAL LITERACY HANDBOOK

The Handbook was produced by the South Hills Literacy Improvement Center, Bethel Park School District in Pennsylvania, it is designed to assist limited English proficient students with understanding and using American idioms. The 110 American idioms are grouped according to their most common use: business, personal, or general situation. At the top of each page is a sentence using an idiom and an illustration of what the idiom seems to mean. At the bottom of the page is an illustration of what the idiom really means, and a sentence for the student to complete using the idiom.

Based on the results of field tests, it was determined that the limited English proficient students who would most benefit from the use of this book are those who have higher than a very basic knowledge of English because they need to be able to understand the explanations of the idioms. Suggestions on how to use this handbook are provided in the text.

DETERMINING READING LEVELS FOR NON-NATIVE SPEAKERS OF ENGLISH

The Adult Educational Development Department of William Rainey Harper College in Palatine, Illinois with the cooperation of staff at the Illinois Adult English as Second Language Center engaged in a research project to conduct correlation studies between adult ESL and adult basic education reading tests. The major goal of the project was to determine reading levels for non-native speakers of English for purposes of reporting progress to employers and funding agencies.

The College of Lake County, Elgin Community College, Oakton MONNACE, and the ESL Program of Township High School District 214, along with William Rainey Harper College, were the sites where combinations of four test were administered to adult students. The four tests used for the study were: Tests of English Proficiency Level (TEPL)-ESL, English Language Skills Assessment (ELSA)-ESL, Test of Adult Basic Education (TABE)-ABE-GED, and the Adult Basic Learning examination (ABLE)-ABE-GED. The project established a framework for additional research in the assessment of reading comprehension. The report describes the methods, subjects, activities, and findings of the study.

TELL ME ABOUT IT

La Salle University in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania developed a multi-cultural manual designed to give low income minority adult learners from diverse cultures an opportunity to build vocabulary, and to encourage written and oral communication in English. The reading and language activities are intended to be used in a group setting. The manual was field tested by both AEE and ESL students. Topics included in this manual not only give students the opportunity to speak and write about their own cultural experiences, but also give them the opportunity to increase their understanding of other cultures. Ethnic backgrounds of the students displayed in the readings range from Jamaican to Cambodian to Angolan to African American. "Tell Me About It" can broaden an adult learner's perspective of other cultures.

FAMILY LITERACY PROGRAMS TRAINING MANUAL

Kent State University, developed a manual which provides nine one-hour training sessions related to components of family literacy programs. Each session may stand alone or be used in combination with any other. Content for the sessions represents topics and issues such as process of literacy learning, environment, reading and writing, children literature, language-experience and reading skills. Detailed plans for each session are described which also feature active participant involvement and sharing ideas. The concluding portion of the manual contains two bibliographies: parents and reading, and family literacy programs. A service for further learning as well as a sample evaluation form are given.

FAMILY LITERACY REPORT

This report, conducted by the Illinois Literacy Resource Development Center with support from the John D. and Catherine T. MacArthur Foundation, explored the development of seven model family literacy programs. The purpose of the study is to determine the progress of year two programs, determine successful components and characteristics of the family literacy programs, and assist local programs in developing and implementing practical evaluation systems. A family literacy survey summary is included with each program.

HELP: HOME EDUCATION IN LITERACY AND PARENTING

The twofold purpose of the HELP project was to aid low income, low reading level parents in participating in the local ABE program and to learn how to help their children with school work. Both a guide book and resources for implementing a HELP project were developed. The guide includes a description of recruitment, training and placement of the in-home volunteer tutoring staff, community relationships, networking and plan for dissemination, and project implementation. Resources include the several forms and surveys used for project implementation, lesson plan suggestions, and resources for volunteers.

INTERGENERATIONAL LITERACY MODEL

This project developed a model and accompanying implementation strategies for involving parents and the community in attacking the problem of illiteracy. A handbook was also developed which includes a core curriculum that delineates the model components and implementation strategies for purposes of replications in other communities. The project provides literacy instruction for parents of pre-school and primary school aged children, provides suggestions of consistent, on-going activities for parents to do with their children at home, and encourages the parents of young children to seek literacy instruction on an individual basis at least once a week.

LEARN TOGETHER

The Center for Literacy in Philadelphia field tested and developed a booklet "LEARN TOGETHER - A Book for Parents and Children." The book was designed for low literacy level parents to learn the basics at the same time that their children are learning. The book is divided into four sections: Pre-Reading, Reading, Writing, and Math. Activities are at the pre-kindergarten to grade 3 levels. Materials needed, purpose, directions, and a sample page are given for each activity. "Learn Together" can also be used in ABE Programs for parents in providing a broader base for learning and a good opportunity to see how skills can be transferred from one place to another.

A MODEL FOR RURAL SCHOOLS TO INVOLVE PARENTS IN THE EDUCATION OF THEIR CHILDREN

This manual was developed by the Center for Community Education at Montana State University in cooperation with the Conrad Public Schools, Conrad Montana to involve parents residing in rural areas in the education of their children. Information in the manual gives a step by step process to develop the model. The model includes topics such as: what parents can do, what teachers can do, what principals can do, and how to get started. Additional

()PARENTS AS TEACHERS PROJECT

Baltimore County Public Schools, Baltimore, Maryland designed and field tested training modules to help parents develop techniques to effectively read to their children, choose age appropriate books, go on field trips, choose toys, help with homework, and make and play games with their children. Parent/child interaction activities are designed to reinforce these targeted skills. One hundred thirty-one families attended family workshops and family nights. Parents from ABE classes and AFDC programs, and grandparents came with their granddaughters and low literacy level daughters, while 88 families came from shelters. Through this high retention rate project, modeling was the best teaching technique for the parents because many had no experience in the various activities.

Seven video tapes with booklets were designed for each workshop theme. A slide presentation was also developed for other educators. The booklets: Learning Style, Craft Idea, Self-Esteem, and How to Encourage your Children to Read are included in the materials.

PROJECT PACT: PARENTS AND CHILDREN TOGETHER

Project PACT resulted in the development of a curriculum for 0-4 level ABE students at the Centre County Vocational-Technical School in Pleasant Gap, Pennsylvania. PACT materials are intended for use by ABE students who are parents or others who interact with children. The curriculum consists of lessons in life coping skills and parenting skills. The lessons are constructed to be used first by ABE teachers or counselors with the "parent" and then by parent and child at home. The lessons introduce concepts that a child can learn "naturally" and easily from a parent. In most cases the parents may be learning or reviewing the concept themselves.

REACH AND TEACH: AN EARLY INTERVENTION FAMILY LITERACY MODEL FOR AGENCIES SERVING "AT-RISK" CLIENTS

This project was developed by Pinellas County Schools' Adult and Community Education Department in Clearwater, Florida. The project is designed to improve the parenting and basic skills of educationally "at-risk" clients in agencies and in the community in order to foster learning among their children. Parent/child involvement activities promote physical, social, intellectual development and language growth for young children from birth to five year old. Specific skills for parents focus on reading, writing, computing and problem solving. A facilitator and a parent guide which include a sample sign-in sheet, evaluation and in-home session forms, a list of children's books and activities for each child's developmental stage are included in the Guide.

READ WITH ME

This Instructional Guide, developed by the State College Area School District in Pennsylvania, is designed as a family literacy curriculum to provide educational support for disadvantaged parents and their children. The Guide contains four workshop outlines complete with pre- and post- questionnaires, handouts, discussion topics and a model storyhour program. Songs, fingerplays and suggested read-aloud storybook titles along with a parent resources bibliography are included.

(*)SA-412

A READING GUIDEBOOK FOR PARENTS

This resource is a 78 page guide book for use by ABE students who are parents or are interested in fostering the growth and development of reading skills for children. The information included in the guide specifically addresses the educational levels and developmental stages of children: from early childhood through the primary, intermediate, and secondary levels. For each of these levels, vocabulary lists, games, recommended books, extensive bibliographies and related activities are provided.

READING TOGETHER AND TOGETHER WE LEARN: A PARENT INVOLVEMENT PROGRAM

The School Board of Pinellas County of Clearwater, Florida, developed workshop manuals to use to involve families. The manuals, Read Together and Together We Learn, were designed for school administrators, leaders, principals, ABE and early childhood practitioners to help raise the basic education levels of parents and their children. The manuals are divided into eight workshop sessions which include activities for Middle Schools. A myriad of activities (reading aloud, storytelling, puppetry, speaking, book lists, and language development) are included. Most of the activities can be adapted up or down as needed. A family literacy program in coordination with three ABE classes, Head Start families and 27 Chapter I schools were implemented in which the manuals were field tested. The response was overwhelmingly. More than 950 parents and children enrolled in the program and were served by the project.

GENERAL EDUCATIONAL DEVELOPMENT (GED)

()COLLEGE AND TECHNICAL HANDBOOK

The Fayette County Community Action Agency, Inc. of Uniontown, Pennsylvania developed a handbook on employment and higher education opportunities in the local area. The handbook is a compilation of local vocational/technical, colleges, business schools, their curriculums, degrees offered and entrance information. The handbook lists comprehensive Federal and State financial aid and private grant information. It also provides information and practice worksheets in job search strategy, correspondence for the job search, cover letters, resume worksheet, and skills for workplace communication.

The College and Technical Handbook offers information that GED Students will need in furthering their education and employment futures. The handbook will be beneficial to public school systems, adult education programs and community-based organizations.

()GED AFTER JAIL

This project was developed in Clearfield, Pennsylvania. It addresses the problem of undereducated, unemployed or underemployed former prisoners of the Clearfield County Prison who remain in the county upon release. The project provides individual counseling for prisoners prior to being released from jail, and immediately following their release to help them continue to study for and obtain their GED.

A curriculum packet consisting of (1) an application and class brochure, (2) a survey of personal life goals, (3) job readiness materials, and evaluation was developed from the project. This informational packet will be of particular interest to GED instructors in county prisons, GED program coordinators, and prison officials looking for alternatives to prison recidivism.

()PROJECT RE-ENTRY (A Re-Enrollment Project for GED Students)

This project was conducted by the Tri-County Opportunities Industrialization Center (OIC) in Harrisburg, Pennsylvania. Its purpose was to identify the status of Tri-County OIC students who have been labeled "non-completers." A non-completer was defined as any student who has taken at least one of the official GED tests, but has not completed the entire test battery, or has completed the test battery but still lacks enough points to be awarded a GED equivalency diploma. In addition, a non-completer is not currently enrolled in a GED class.

This report should be of interest to other adult education organizations that serve large numbers of GED students who have not completed the GED testing process.

()TEST TAKING STRATEGIES FOR THE GED CANDIDATE

Test Taking Strategies for the GED Candidate is a monthly seminar offered by the Erie City School District in conjunction with the Erie Adult Learning Center to all people who were preparing to take the GED Test. These seminars explored the areas of: Test taking strategies, the skills necessary to be successful in passing the 5 subject areas included on the GED Test; and the mental and emotional factors involved in the test taking process. Videotapes, hand-outs and group discussion were the methods used by the counselors. Each participants was given a written evaluation of the seminar.

The report of this project contains a curriculum designed to teach test taking skills and strategies to students taking the GED test. The approaches used in this seminar will be useful to other adult educators administering the GED Test.

()YEARBOOK: WRITING, RECRUITMENT, RECOGNITION

The Tuscarora Intermediate Unit (TIU) Adult Education and Job Training Center, developed a yearbook that featured 20-30 graduating GED students to be used as a vehicle for ABE recruitment. It can also be used to provide an important link between old and new alumni. The yearbook includes a student writing section to highlight the students' educational experience which can be used as a prototype by other adult educators.

The yearbook was designed to provide graduating GED students with a special way to show recognition and praise for their educational accomplishments.

LIFE SKILLS

()EVERYDAY BASIC SKILLS

Everyday Basic Skills was developed by the Tuscarora Intermediate Unit, Adult Education and Job Training Center in Lewistown, Pennsylvania. It is a comprehensive life skills curriculum for literacy and ABE level individuals with an emphasis on the basic skills needed to meet everyday survival issues. The curriculum consists of seven complete and free standing modules that permit flexibility of delivery by classroom instruction, small group instruction and independent study. Reading levels are at the 4th to 8th grade level and allows for the incorporation of existing materials available in the classroom. The seven modules are: Basic Skills, Everyday Math, Everyday English, Social Skills, Reasoning Skills, Employability Skills, and Life Skills/Parenting.

()MATHEMATICS FOR THE 90'S: TOWARD A NEW PERSPECTIVE

Mathematics for the 90's was developed by the Mt. Hood Community College in Gresham, Oregon. The major objective of this project was to design a curriculum for ABE math which emphasizes critical-thinking, problem solving, use of technology, and writing rather than drill and practice. The product provides practical exercises activities using written and oral language, technology and life-skills. It also serves as a basis for training staff to alter attitudes about math, broaden the curricula and more effectively bridge math in the classroom with math in the workplace.

PROJECT P.R.O.U.D (People Reading Their Own Unique Dictation)

This Pennsylvania project was designed to focus on the problems associated with book-centered, one-to-one tutoring to help adults learn to read. The problems that the project sought to eliminate were uninteresting, non pertinent materials; focus on single skills rather than reading as communication; lack of learner-centered, self-worth attitudes; and feelings of being a one-of-a-kind non reader. The project staff trained tutors in the language experience approach and designed appropriate accompanying exercises. The tutors then had students dictate stories concerning their experiences, knowledge, and concerns. Students then worked through these stories and exercises. Tutors submitted the stories and exercises to Mid-State Literacy Council for grouping according to reading level, editing, and publication in a set of six books. The six books that contain students' language experience stories with accompanying skill exercises and comprehension questions were developed for adult students at the 0-4 reading level, including non-English speaking adults.

()A TUTOR HANDBOOK FOR SENIOR CITIZENS CLASSES (Nutrition, Fire Safety and Survival Spanish)

Chester County Occupational Industrialization Centers in Pennsylvania developed and field tested a handbook that addresses a need for providing educational services to senior citizens functioning below necessary literacy levels. The program provides for training of volunteer instructors and peer tutors who teach literacy to senior citizens so that they can gain skills that will enable them to perform daily tasks more independently. The product include a final report and curriculum written in English and Spanish.

STAFF DEVELOPMENT

ADULT LITERACY LEADERSHIP TRAINING PROJECT REPORT

Phase II of Florida's Adult Literacy Leadership Training Project involved a study of education and training activities for adult literacy providers. The purpose was to provide a framework for upgrading the education and skills of literacy professionals. This study resulted in a report in two volumes. Dr. Edith D. Crew at the Florida State University was the principal investigator for this phase of the training project. Volume I, "Toward the Development of a Comprehensive Education and Training Model for Florida's Adult Literacy Leadership," presents background for staff development and training activities and general guidelines for a program evaluation design. Volume II, "Fundamental Considerations in the Conceptualization and Design of Adult Literacy Staff Development and Training," explains the study methodology, the research findings and conclusions, and the recommended framework for training adult literacy professionals. MARYLAND'S ADULT PERFORMANCE PROGRAM (MAPP): INSTRUCTIONAL COMPONENT

This project of the Montgomery County Public Schools is a continuation of the development and implementation of Maryland's statewide competency based program, Project MAPP. Earlier projects focused on the Assessment, Instruction and Management/Guidance components. As a result of a statewide evaluation of the Instructional program, some refinements and revisions were made in the materials. This latest project effort incorporated necessary changes based on the evaluation and produced teacher references and training materials:

SUMMARY OF CERTIFICATION REQUIREMENTS FOR ADULT EDUCATION TEACHERS IN THE STATES

The Arizona Adult Education Committee and representatives from Region 6 Adult Staff Development Consortium prepared a summary and list of State certification requirements. The requirements were taken in part from the Study of ABE/ESL Instructor Training Approaches, State Profiles Report that was conducted in 1991 by Pelavin Associates, Inc. The summary and list provide listings of current certification requirements for staff development activities.

TEACHERS, TOOLS AND TECHNIQUES: A HANDBOOK FOR ADULT BASIC EDUCATION AND GED INSTRUCTION

This handbook for adult education and literacy teachers offers a range of strategies for classroom instruction and indepth information about other selected topics such as the GED test, professional organizations, and publications. The introductory chapter on the "Adult Learner" incorporates adult learner characteristics, theory and principles about retention and motivation, learning styles, learning disabilities, and cultural issues. The section on classroom management includes discussion about multilevel classes and cooperative learning. The chapters on reading, mathematics and writing provide useful background for the teacher in approaching lessons in these subjects, followed by rich examples. The material is organized for easy reference and highlights "tips for teachers" in each major section.

TEACHING WRITING

BASIC WRITING SKILLS - A SEQUENTIAL OBJECTIVE BASED PROGRAM FOR USE IN ABE AND GED PREP CLASSES

A sequence of ten units or "learning packets," each with its own specific measurable learning objective, has been designed to help students master the language arts skills essential for the writing skills portion of the GED examination. Each of the ten units consists of four parts: a pre-test, an explanation of the concept, student exercises, and a post-test. The format used is especially suitable for students who are working independently at their own pace. However, instructor assistance is recommended to help students understand their mistakes and apply the rules presented. An effort has been made to explain concepts as concisely as possible, with the emphasis on application rather than terminology.

INTRODUCING WRITING TO GED/ABE STUDENTS

The purpose of this professional development package is to assist GED instructors in developing teaching skills which will help them prepare students for the written essay part of the new GED exam. Research and educators experiences indicate that the thinking/writing required are most efficiently and effectively communicated through collaborative learning situations where dialogue or discussion expose individuals to different ways of looking at topics. The accompanying video provides an opportunity to observe other GED instructors and tutors working with this process - 40 page Handbook and 1/2 inch VHS video tape.

LEARNING ABOUT PEOPLE: A CULTURAL WRITING EXPERIENCE (STUDENT MANUAL)

This set of materials for a cultural writing curriculum for adult basic education students (5-8 grade level), developed in Pennsylvania, consists of a teacher's guide and student manual (videotape and an audiocassette complete the set). The materials are intended to develop the adult learners' writing and reading competencies through their active involvement with the cultural heritage of their community, accomplished by conducting interviews with community members. The 11 lessons, or steps, are designated by the letters A through K and arranged so that each step builds upon knowledge attained through completing the preceding steps. The teacher's guide provides a supplemental reading list and the following materials for each lesson: lesson objectives, lesson overview, and suggested teaching ideas. The student manual provides informational materials and exercises that teach the students basic skills of Interviewing (Step A: Getting Started, Step B: Listening, Step C: Notetaking, and Step D: Taping) and of writing an organized, edited account of the interview (Step E: Transcribing, Step F: Organizing, Step G: Editing for Spelling, Step H: Editing for Vocabulary, and Step I: Editing for Usage).

PUBLISHING AN ANTHOLOGY OF ADULT STUDENT WRITING: A PARTNERSHIP FOR LITERACY

The main objectives of this Pennsylvania project were to conduct a writing contest for adult basic education/high school equivalency/English as a Second Language (ABE/GED/ESL) and basic literacy students and to publish an anthology of selected prose (fiction and non-fiction) and poetry entries by those students. Secondary objectives were to promote a greater public awareness of ABE/basic literacy programs and to encourage cross-membership and involvement of adult and K-college English teachers. This report is a step-by-step description of the anthology project. Extensive appendices to the report contain the following items: rules and guidelines, evaluative criteria for judging student writing, cover letter, student

ADULT EDUCATION THROUGH TECHNOLOGY PROJECT

Odessa College, in Odessa, Texas, used computers, videos, audio, print media, seminars, and workshops to provide enriched curriculum concerning workplace competencies to JOBS clients. Participants were also furnished information concerning jobs. Project participants used computers and videos to study workplace math, English, reading, social skills, reasoning skills, values, employability skills and vocational training requirements. They were encouraged to use these tools to explore their aptitudes, interests and learning styles as they worked on their academic skills. The project developed a manual for adult educators that contains a description of the technology model and its implementation. The manual includes specifics on how to replicate the program.

COLORADO GED-ON-TV

The purpose of this special demonstration project was to investigate the feasibility of implementing in Colorado the Kentucky Educational Network's KET/GED video series. DEVELOPMENT OF AN IN-PLANT MICROCOMPUTER LITERACY LAB

The Northwest Tri-County Unit in Edinboro, Pennsylvania developed this curriculum to supply ABE and GED students with software and instruction in word processing, spreadsheets, and databases. Microsoft Work provides the basis of the programming since it encompasses all three of the desired components and interfaces well with the IBM microcomputer. Products resulting from this project include lesson plans for teachers wishing to use word processing, spreadsheets, and databases to instruct reading, writing, or math basic skills. This project directly benefits both adult students and their instructors by providing a simplified outline for both of them to follow while acquiring the Microsoft Program techniques.

DISTANCE LEARNING PROGRAM FOR DELIVERY OF ADULT BASIC AND SECONDARY EDUCATION

This project developed and implemented a televised delivery system for GED which complemented and supplemented existing adult education programs. Several products were developed including (1) a Program Implementation Handbook for potential adult education administrators with step-by-step suggestions for setting up an effective program of GED on TV, (2) a Questionnaire for collecting and verifying student contact hours based upon the televised lessons, and (3) a Supplemental Guide to the Math Workbook to assist instructors/support people when working with the students.

EXAMINATION AND EVALUATION OF LARGE COMPUTER SYSTEMS FOR USE IN ADULT BASIC EDUCATION PROGRAMS

The Adult Basic Skills Technology Consortium at the Washington State Adult Basic Education Center for Program and Staff Development were examined for their potential for use in ABE programs. With input from an advisory group of educators using Integrated Learning Systems, an extensive list of questions for evaluating such a system was developed. This list of questions is included, along with a short form checklist which could be used for less detailed examination. The systems examined were CCC, CCP, ClassWorks, PLATO, and WICAT. A program using each of the systems was visited, the system was examined in depth, and users of the system were interviewed. The results of these examinations are contained in this report.

COMMERCIAL DRIVER'S LICENSE BASIC SKILLS ENHANCEMENT TRAINEE AND TRAINER'S MANUALS

Jefferson County Public Schools Adult Education Unit, Louisville, Kentucky, wrote and field tested a workplace literacy curriculum to help truck drivers improve their basic skills in order to pass the federally mandated Commercial Driver's License Examination. The information in the Trainee's manual was taken from the Kentucky Commercial Driver's License Manual. Teaching practices for basic skills are combined with work site observations, assessment, and evaluation. The workplace artifacts (manuals, forms, etc.) used in the curriculum are generic in content for commercial drivers.

The trainer's manual describes both a process for conducting commercial driver license workplace literacy and contextual lessons to be used within the process. Assessments, worksheets, and information sheets correspond to the lesson plans in the curriculum.

LEARNING FOR EARNING: A BASIC SKILLS AND EMPLOYABILITY TRAINING MANUAL FOR ADULT STUDENTS

This manual, developed at the Lutheran Settlement House Women's Program, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, addresses communication and other interpersonal skills as well as academic skills through a series of readings involving job situations. The stories in the manual relate experiences of adult students. The accompanying exercises encourage other adults to solve actual on-the-job difficulties while developing their reading, numeracy, and interpersonal skills.

()FOR THE COMMON GOOD: A Guide for Developing Local Interagency Linkage Teams

The two reports supplement the "Ohio at Risk" report already available through Special Answers. This joint project of the Ohio Department of Education, the Ohio Department of Human Services, and the Ohio Bureau of Employment Services was designed to address the need for interagency collaboration in order to provide more effective delivery of services in the State.

The Local Interagency Linkage Team Follow-up Report documents the activities of 28 local linkage teams over a two-year period, and includes conclusions and recommendations.

For the Common Good is a 42-page resource guide to assist local communities in developing effective collaborative interagency linkage teams, based on the experiences and examples resulting from the demonstration project. The guide includes a detailed six-step outline of the implementation process, an action plan form, and a reference list for additional information.

A MANUAL FOR UNION - MANAGEMENT EDUCATIONAL PARTNERSHIPS

This manual, developed by District 1199C Training and Upgrading Fund, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. It is written for programs located in a unionized workplace setting. Topics in the manual include: determining the need, arguments for a formal partnership, and learner-focused training. In addition, types of training, cost of training, curriculum content, recruitment, evaluation, and sources of funding are discussed.

(*)SA-1305

OHIO AT-RISK LINKAGE TEAM PROJECT

This Resource notebook describes activities that are needed to begin writing an action plan to develop linkages between educators and human services staff at the local level. These activities include an analysis of an at-risk linkage survey results, a workshop for local linkage teams, and the identification of exemplary local linkages.

The targeted audience is recipients of the Job Opportunities and Basic Skills (JOBS) Program and the Learning, Earning, and Parenting (LEAP) Program.

()PARKWAY AREA ADULT BASIC EDUCATION PRE-TECHNICAL WORKPLACE INITIATIVE

The Parkway Area Adult Basic Education Program developed the two practical guides based on a workplace partnership conducted with area health care, business, and industry organizations. The guides are to be used as resources for organizations wishing to implement an on-site program which meets the worker's need for basic skills and literacy training workers in preparation for technical skill upgrades.

The first, Practical Guide for Development and Implementation, is a 100-page manual covering manual use, background and results of the Parkway project, as well as Essential Steps (Start-up, Records and Reporting), Staffing, Business/Education Partnerships (Initial Contact, Planning, Task Analyses, Financial Agreements, and Advisory Committees), Site Selection and Set-up, Materials, Assessment, Teacher/Tutor Training, Marketing and Evaluation.

The second, Model Guide, Phase II, is a 150-page supplement containing examples of letters, forms, surveys, articles, assessments, evaluations, statistics, partnership agreement, individual learning plans, functional context materials, advisory meeting agendas and minutes that were developed and used in the Parkway project. The materials are to be used as additional aids in implementing the phases described in the Practical Guide.

PARTNERS IN LITERACY: A WORKPLACE LITERACY RESOURCE GUIDE

The Guide, developed by the Florida Literacy Coalition, is designed to promote workplace literacy partnerships between literacy providers and public/private employers. There are six sections in the Guide. Section one includes resource materials on performing a literacy audit, setting goals, and evaluating workplace literacy programs. Curriculum development activities are presented in Section two. Section three has sample activities and Section four presents Florida statistics. Section five has a summary of Workforce 2000 and Section six concludes with a Directory of Literacy Providers and Resources.

()PREPARING HEALTH CARE WORKERS FOR THE YEAR 2000

The Philadelphia Hospital and Health Care-District II99C Training and Upgrading Fund project objectives were to produce, through a union-management partnership composed of the National Union of Hospital and Health Care Employees, the AFL-CIO and employers in Southeastern Pennsylvania: an educational assessment survey for health care workers; a workplace literacy needs assessment survey for health employers; curricula to upgrade skills of workers in two health care industry service areas, and training in two 100-hour courses for targeted workers. A booklet describing project results was developed.

()PROCEDURES TO ASSESS WORKPLACE LITERACY TRAINING NEEDS

A procedural manual was developed by the Minnesota Teamsters Service Bureau in Minneapolis. This manual contains step-by-step strategies for analyzing workplace literacy training needs through collaborative union, business, Adult Basic Education (ABE), and worker partnerships. The manual stresses the critical importance of worker involvement in all aspects of program development from initial planning to the eventual delivery and evaluation of training. It also addresses the following steps in developing high quality and cost effective training programs: (1) establishing the foundation for collaboration; (2) assessing workplace literacy training needs; (3) designing workplace literacy training programs; and (4) assuring meaningful worker participation. It is intended for use by any group or organization interested in establishing workplace literacy training programs.

PROCEEDINGS OF THE FLORIDA WORKPLACE LITERACY CONFERENCE

This publication includes the major points presented at the Workplace Literacy Conference held in conjunction with the Florida Literacy Conference in March, 1991, in Jacksonville. The conference centered around a proposed model focusing on partnership agreements between business and industry and local adult education providers. Included in this publication are topics on "Why and How to develop Literacy Programs in the Workplace", "Selling the Concept/Identifying partners", "Designing Partnership Agreements", "Literacy Task Analysis", "Curriculum Development/Adaptation Based on Literacy Task Analysis", and Do's and Don'ts for Programs." In addition, there are samples of brochures, flyers, advertisements, and print media promotions; assessment instruments and educational services agreements; and forms for workplace literacy programs. Trends for workplace literacy programs are placed in the Annotated Bibliography of Workplace Literacy Publications.

()READING, WRITING AND CRITICAL THINKING FOR SECOND-LEVEL EMPLOYEES IN SMALL AND MID-SIZED BUSINESSES

This project, conducted by the Adult Literacy Center of Lehigh Valley in Allentown, Pennsylvania identified essential vocabulary, reading comprehension, math, writing and critical thinking skills for 29 second-level jobs in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, in selected occupations. Literacy audits and task analyses were performed and instructional modules produced for the fields of Light/Industrial Machine Operation, Health Care, Food Preparation, Hotel/Hospitality, and Housekeeping/ Maintenance. The report provides skills and vocabulary specific to each occupational area, tasks common to several areas, sample instructional techniques, and sample activities applied to work-related materials. The report is to be used as a resource guide for projects wishing to develop a cooperative training program in response to the needs of small and mid-sized businesses.

()SKILLS AND KNOWLEDGE IN LIFELONG LEARNING

The SKILL Final/Procedural Report describes the implementation and operation of a workplace training partnership between Vance-Granville Community College and an area roofing manufacturer, the CertainTeed Corporation in Oxford, North Carolina. The workplace program, including literacy requirements and curriculum plans, was designed in coordination with a Focused Industry Training program being established at the partner company. The final report provides suggestions for maintaining a successful program, as well as sample materials for Program Development, Curriculum Development, Job Task Analysis, Marketing/Promotion, and Evaluation.

TOOLS OF THE TRADE

The Mifflin County Community Project in Pennsylvania was undertaken to offer comprehensive job search assistance to adult basic education students in the form of career awareness workshops. The workshops covered the following topics: completing job applications, writing resumes, filling out skill cards, interviewing for a job, analyzing the job market, following up on job leads, networking, and making direct contact with employers. The project's report contains many of the materials used during the workshops, including materials dealing with employer expectations, job objectives, skills identification, paper skills (pocket resumes, applications, skill cards, letter-writing guidelines, and resumes), phone contacts, interviewing, and follow up. A 90-item bibliography concludes the document.

WHAT WORKS! GUIDELINES FOR WORKPLACE SKILLS ENHANCEMENT PROGRAMS

This handbook, developed by the South Carolina Office of Adult Education, Florence School Districts 2, 3, 4, and 5. It is designed for adult educators to use in establishing a successful workplace skills enhancement program at business and industry program sites.

The handbook describes how to plan, design, implement, maintain, and evaluate successful programs. Several fact sheets are included in the appendix on writing brochures and support letters, building the curriculum, and determining student cost per class. In addition, cooperative agreements, literacy audit, recruitment techniques, and program evaluation are addressed.

WINNING THE RACE AGAINST TECHNOLOGY: IMPLEMENTING LITERACY PROGRAMS IN THE WORKPLACE

This manual describes how a partnership between Comal, Guadaiupe, and Kendall counties adult education co-ops and Motorola, Inc. in Seguin, Texas was planned and implemented. Topics in the manual include Getting Started, Selling Your Organization, and Designing a Program Specific to the Needs of the Company. In addition, recruiting and assessing participants are discussed. Sample participant and instructor evaluation forms are provided. Challenges such as determining assessment instruments and making class schedules are discussed.

()THE WORKER'S COOPERATIVE

The Norris Square Civic Association in conjunction with The Center for Literacy community organization in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania initiated a neighborhood-based construction company to provide basic skills, vocational skills, and employment to neighborhood residents. Course design, curriculum development, training and production of a manual (in English and Spanish) on the subject of worker cooperatives attempts to provide ESL/literacy training, and to encourage knowledge and proficiencies necessary to allow the community to manage the construction company as a worker-owned cooperative.

()WORKFORCE GADSDEN: BRIDGING THE GAP

The "Workforce Gadsden" Project established a partnership between the Gadsden County, Florida School System's Adult and Community Education Program and the County Chamber of Commerce, to provide workplace literacy training to small and medium-sized businesses and governmental departments. The final report provides examples of products (including business and industry needs analysis surveys, a marketing/informational pamphlet, lists of materials sent to area businesses, Advisory Council minutes, publicity, etc.) used to promote community awareness of the need for work-related basic skills training. The report also discusses the practices (key partnership and program components such as staff development and support services, an evaluation of project objectives and outcomes, etc.) used to provide technical assistance and training to address these needs.

WORKFORCE LITERACY FOR HOTEL/MOTEL WORKERS

Polk County School District staff in Florida developed this project to help Adult Basic Education (ABE) and English for Speakers of Other Language (ESOL) students with their job-related and language skills. A learning unit is provided for three occupational areas: Housekeepers, Groundkeepers, and Food Service Workers. Tasks are related to general and job related information, effective oral communication, and following written directions.

A Training Manual was also developed which includes sections on: Exploration, Negotiation, Implementation, and Appendices.

WORKPLACE LITERACY: MODEL COOPERATIVE INDUSTRIAL LITERACY PROJECT HANDBOOK AND EVALUATION REPORT

This handbook, developed by Caldwell Community College in North Carolina describes the steps used in developing a workplace literacy program between Broyhill Furniture Industries, and the Caldwell Community College and Technical Institute. Program design, preparation, implementation, evaluation, and guidelines for replication are some of the topics listed in the handbook. In addition, the handbook is accompanied by a project evaluation report which incudes such topics as evaluation of student progress, student gains, and the program implementation model. Specific objectives, procedures, findings, and recommendations are also examined in the evaluation report.

WORKPLACE LITERACY: A RESOURCE GUIDE

This publication was compiled at Florida Atlantic University to provide guidelines, models, and appropriate resource materials to adult education agencies and employers who desire to plan or implement a workplace literacy program.

A summary of results from Florida Workplace Literacy Programs, and a discussion on how to develop a workplace literacy program is included. In addition, an annotated Bibliography of Resources is provided that is organized into four categories: Trends, Model programs, Resources, and Teaching strategies. The appendices include a workplace literacy fact sheet and a workplace literacy survey instrument.

WORKPLACE LITERACY: WORKPLACE TECHNICAL ASSISTANCE PROGRAM (WORKTAP) HANDBOOK

WORKTAP was developed at the Institute for the Study of Adult Literacy at Pennsylvania State University. It is a technical assistance service program designed to train adult education providers, literacy service providers, and business and industry organizations to develop and implement workplace literacy programs. Initiating and establishing workplace literacy needs, developing job specific basic skills instruction, and implementing effective workplace literacy programs are some of the topics discussed in this handbook.
